Implications for AI's use in other campus process to be discussed. | Jeff Moran | Finalize AI-Generated PSLO Alignment Reports - Tak Auyeung will input Chemistry, Psychology, Math, English, History, and Art programs into the AI tool before the March meeting. Distribute Reports to Faculty for Validation - The AI-generated PSLO/SLO alignment reports will be sent to department faculty for review and scoring on a 0-4 scale before the March meeting. Prepare for March IEC Discussion on AI Tool - Faculty feedback will be reviewed to determine necessary prompt adjustments and refinements. Develop AI Policy and Training Recommendations - IEC members are encouraged to provide feedback on ethical AI implementation, faculty-led AI adoption, and possible training strategies. Plan for Academic Senate Presentation in April - Present full results of AI-driven PSLO mapping, solicit feedback, and discuss long-term institutional adoption. |

| Re-chartering ARC Councils: At the end of this term, all three Council "action charters" will expire and need to be renewed. DISCUSSION ITEMS:

| Question | Person(s) Responsible | Notes and Next Steps |
|----------|-----------------------|----------------------|
|----------|-----------------------|----------------------|

|---|-----------------------|---|
| Professional Development for Non-Classroom Faculty: Counseling faculty are interested in exploring ways to offer a deeper dive into equity work for a small group of non-classroom faculty, including counselors, librarians, nurses, and faculty coordinators. Many are interested in exploring ways to improve their practice and outcomes for the Disproportionately Impacted students they serve. The college has a successful track record of offering equity training for small groups of instructional faculty. Some counselors, particularly those who teach HCD, have participated over the years. Maybe we can discuss: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Ways to improve our practice in a non-classroom context • Informing our efforts with relevant data (even if it is less specific than the instructional retention data our colleagues use) | Jessica Nelson | Potential Faculty Liaison Roles – The idea was raised about ensuring non-instructional faculty (librarians, counselors, nurses, etc.) have designated liaisons who can help shape professional development opportunities. Proposal for an Institute – There was interest in developing an institute-style professional development program for non-instructional faculty, modeled after past institutes for instructional faculty. Collaboration with CTL – The discussion touched on integrating non-instructional faculty development into the Center for Teaching and Learning (CTL) to provide structured, ongoing support. Continued Discussion at ELT – There was an intention to bring this discussion to the Executive Leadership Team (ELT) to explore potential resources and next steps. |
