DISCUSSION ITEMS:

| Question | Person(s) Responsible | Notes and Next Steps |
|--|--|--|
| Dean Flores will speak to the questions posed by members as it relates to mental health support services available to students, including: - How do we support our disproportionately impacted (DI) students? - Is there adequate representation in mental health services? - Where can students see themselves reflected in the support available? - What languages are offered for services? Is there support for students navigating the current political climate? | Victoria Flores, Dean of Student Wellness and Support Services (2pm) | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Diverse Therapist Support: The Student Health & Wellness Center offers therapy services with professionals from diverse backgrounds and language proficiencies to better support students' needs. - Access to Services: Students can receive health and wellness assistance both in-person and online through the Student Health & Wellness Center. Online Mental Health Resources: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - BetterMynd: An online platform where students can access mental health support using their W-ID for login. - Togetherall: Another valuable online resource available for students seeking mental health support. - Health Services Available: The physical office provides a variety of health screenings and tests in addition to wellness services. - Eligibility Requirement: Students must be enrolled in at least one class to access these services. - Staff Support: Employees at the Student Health & Wellness Center assist students with health care services, including therapy, insurance activation, and connecting to additional health resources. |
| Review Student Conduct draft feedback | David Miramontes- Quiñones | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Neurodiversity Training: There is a need to embed neurodiversity training into institutional practices. Student Conduct Changes: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Transition to Student Services: The Student Conduct process is shifting from Instruction to Student Services to align with the Student Equity Plan and AB 1575. - AB 1575 Compliance: A pool of student advocates needs to be established to support compliance with AB 1575. Student Conduct Decision-Making: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - The Conduct Officer is currently the primary decision-maker following an investigation. - There are concerns about relying on a single person for conduct decisions. - A standing committee may be appointed to review cases and support decision-making. - Faculty Involvement: Faculty have expressed interest in being included in the Student Conduct process. Education and Training Needs: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Faculty and staff need training on discipline procedures and FERPA compliance. |
